School Song

We're loyal to you, F.H.S.
We'll always be true, F.H.S.
We'll back you to stand
Against the best in the land
For we know that you can
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!
So, go get the ball, F.H.S.
We're backing you all, F.H.S.
Our team is our fame protector
On, boys, for we expect
A victory from you, F.H.S.

Class History

Way back in '37 a group of scared first graders started on a long journey. Among the shining faces were Judith Pruitt, Peggy Arnold, Gene Deweese, Rachel Lisby, Vera Ross, Noble Tharp, and Kenneth Carpenter. This group, with the exception of Kenneth, who lived a few months in Quincy, continued through the twelve years of school in Fillmore school.

Thomas McNeil, the wizard of Oz, joined the rowdy group in the fourth grade. That year Gene Deweese played Santa Claus, to the high school in a Christmas play. Gene made a fat, jolly Santa!

In the fifth grade everyone seemed to be bad "kiddies." Mr. Buis, the teacher, had his hands and corners full all the time. Wilma Wilson, and Ethel and Don Thompson joined the group and proved themselves ready to be in on all the mischief; they kept up with the rest of the group.

The first class party was enjoyed by this group while they were in the sixth grade. Everyone felt grown-up, but they didn't act as if they were anything but brats! A treasure hunt climaxed the afternoon. The prize was a big bunch of oranges which the winning side enjoyed—much to the other side's regret.

The next fall they took the dreaded, yet longed for, journey upstairs. After acting like chickens, who had lost their heads, for a couple of weeks, they learned the routine.

Miss Meredith had the pleasure (?) of being the first to tame the class. As helpers the class chose: Thomas McNeil, president; Judith Pruitt, assistant; Vera Ross, secretary; Kenneth Carpenter, treasurer.

On April 6 and 7, the home economics girls gave a tea for their mothers, senior girls, and women teachers. The boys drooled for a week!

Then they advanced a tentative step into the eighth grade. Kathleen Kendall entered from Greencastle this year.

Miss Thomas, who later became Mrs. Goodman, was the sponsor, and with her help were chosen: Ethel Thompson, president; Mike Alexander, assistant; Judith Pruitt, secretary; Gene Deweese, treasurer; Thomas McNeil, reporter.

Then the "green" stage. There were thirty members of the class this year and from them were chosen as officers: Marvin Miller, president; Gene Deweese, assistant; Wilma Arnold, secretary; Peggy Arnold, treasurer; and, last but not least, Anita Selsor, reporter. Mr. Smith had the honor (?) of taming them during the year.

On September 21, the sophomores deciding the freshmen were dumb, and wanting to get revenge, initiated them. That night they shook in their shoes and almost lost them! Later on, a weiner roast was really enjoyed.

On the fateful day of November 27 they had their very first high school party. Most of the evening was spent in playing wink and by the members stuffing themselves on sandwiches and cokes.

The Cardinals from the class were: Roland Neier, Gene Deweese, Don Thompson, Noble Tharp, and Kenneth Carpenter. Kenny played on the baseball team, too. My, they were proud to be on the team!

Mrs. Davidson worried with the group their sophomore year. Roland Neier, president; Lloyd Nichols, assistant; Bob Rigdon, secretary; Don Thompson, treasurer, led the class in their activities.

On September 27, the sophomores got their revenge and showed the freshmen they were even "greener" than they thought.

On January 4, they gathered in the gym to do justice to their sophomore class party. They did!!!

In the county contest in algebra, Fillmore won first as a team; Wilma Wilson won first, Ethel Thompson, second, individually.

Then the next September they grew a little more and were juniors.

They breathlessly got their class rings. For days everyone held hands--the only really good chance, and the only good reason they ever had!

Mrs. Goodman was stuck with them again while Roland Neier, president; Kenneth Carpenter, assistant; Judith Pruitt, secretary; Ethel Thompson, treasurer; Thomas McNeil, reporter, gave her moral support.

On December 19 they presented "Stranger in the Night." Judith Pruitt, Wilma Wilson, Kenneth Carpenter, Thomas McNeil, Pat Henderson, Roland Neier, Ethel Thompson, Noble Tharp, Peggy Arnold, Noble Alexander, Anita Selsor, and Vera Ross were the characters. The plot centered around the bookstore in a hotel and the person who was to be murdered. No one knew who it was until Grant Terry, a young detective, solved the mystery. Mr. Paul Pruitt directed the play.

Kenneth Carpenter, Roland Neier, Noble Tharp, and Don Thompson were the Cardinals from the class; they really "shone" since there weren't any seniors on the team.

The class was greatly saddened by the death of Marvin Miller. He and Dave Waltman were killed in an automobile accident in Coatesville.

The climax of the year came with the Junior and Senior reception, held in the Wabash Room of the Terre Haute House. The theme was that of a circus and it brought much fun in the course of the evening. The orchestra kept everyone dancing until midnight.

In the county contests, Wilma Wilson tied for first with Betty Ratcliff of Bainbridge in typing; Rachel Lisby won first and Madonna Goss, second, in shorthand. As teams, Ethel Thompson and Wilma Wilson won third in mathematics; Vera Jean Ross, Ethel Thompson, and Wilma Wilson, second in beginning typing; Rachel Lisby and Madonna Goss, first in shorthand.

In March the 1948-49 Comrade Staff was selected: Ethel Thompson, editor; Roland Neier, assistant; Noble Tharp, Business manager; Vera Ross and Kathleen Kendall, editorial writers; Judith Pruitt, advertising manager; Don Thompson, art editor; Harry Custis and Peggy Arnold, sports editors; Rachel Lisby, features; Anita Selsor, exchange editor; Florence Pell and Thomas McNeil, reporters; Wilma Wilson, Madonna Goss, and Patty Henderson, typists; Wilma Arnold, Circulation manager; Gene Deweese and Kenneth Carpenter, mimeograph operators; Mrs. Goodman, Sponsor.

Ethel Thompson was one of the Cardinal yell leaders and received a black yell sweater.

On August 27, the Seniors were in an uproar. They were selling school supplies and books. The school children were coming in for all kinds of books. After the first of the term things quieted down and tablets, pencils, ink, erasers, etc., were sold.

On September 3, class officers and sponsors were selected. Miss Joseph was their sponsor and to help her: Noble Tharp, (Who campaigned three days!), president; Peggy Arnold, assistant; Vera Ross, secretary; Judith Pruitt, treasurer; Thomas McNeil, reporter.

On October 13, the seniors had their individual pictures taken by Porters. Two girls wore jeans because of a fire drill. Each was sure the camera would break but nothing happened and it developed later that each had good pictures.

October 20, Fillmore won the softball Championship. The final game was against Russellville. The senior boys were thrilled!

Ethel Thompson again represented the class of seniors as a Cardinal yell leader.

November 1, the seniors began a magazine drive. The proceeds were about $200, much to their delight.

On December 13 the 1949 "Echoes" staff was selected. Wilma Wilson, editor; Thomas McNeil, assistant editor; Anita Selsor, business manager;Rachel Lisby, production manager; Kenneth Carpenter, sports editor; Pat Henderson, feature editor; Kathleen Kendall, department editor; Ethel and Don Thompson, art editors; Florence Pell and Roland Neier, subscription managers; Judith Pruitt and Gene Deweese, photographers; Vera Ross and Noble Tharp, advertising managers; Madonna Goss and Peggy Arnold, proofreaders were the members of the staff. Miss Joseph did the final proofreading and Mrs. Goodman was the faculty advisor.

On December 23, the juniors and seniors sponsored a Christmas dance in the gym. The decorations were holly, mistletoe, streamers, and candles. Everyone danced on everyones' "barking dogs" and had to say, "Excuse me!" about every five minutes. Several learned to dance, though. Punch, cake and candy were served later. The orchestra had many pretty dance pieces and every one enjoyed it very much.

January 22, the Fillmore Cards made history by winning the Wabash Valley preliminary from Roachdale. Among the proud Cards were Noble Tharp, Gene Deweese, Kenneth Carpenter, Don Thompson, and Roland Neier. At the Terre Haute semi-finals they won their first game but lost their second.

In the annual D.A.R. good citizenship selection Ethel Thompson was chosen as D.A.R. representative from Fillmore High School. The class chose Ethel Thompson, Judith Pruitt, and Rachel Lisby. From these three the faculty elected Ethel Thompson by a very close margin. The D.A.R. is chosen for dependability, service, leadership, and partiotism. Jeanette Tippin, from Bainbridge was selected as the county winner and represented Putnam County in the state contest.

On February 24, 25, and 26, the Fillmore Cards played in the Sectional Tourney. They won the tourney and the seniors boys were happy to be a part of the team. They lost their second game in the Regional, however.

The senior boys--Noble Tharp, Kenneth Carpenter, Roland Neier, Noble Tharp, Gene Deweese, and Harry Custis--received awards at the basketball supper given in the boys' honor on March 11, in the Fillmore school house. Ethel also won an award. After supper a magician entertained with tricks.

On March 18, the seniors sponsored a St. Patricks Day Hop in the Fillmore gymnasium. The gym was decorated in the traditional green with white trimming. Everyone enjoyed everything, from dancing to refreshments.

Three senior girls--Wilma Wilson, Anita Selsor, and Vera Jean Ross--went to the county contests to represent the advanced typing class. They won second as a team.

A guidance conference was held at the Greencastle auditorium on March 21. The conference was to help all who plan to attend college either this summer or this coming fall. Those who went from the senior class were: Ethel Thompson, Rachel Lisby, and Judith Pruitt.

On April 24, Baccalaureate Service was held at the Methodist Church. The twenty seniors were attired in suits. Reverend Robert Robinson was their speaker and gave a very interesting talk. The high school chorus furnished the music.

Thursday, April 28, the seniors gathered together at the Christian Church for what would probably be the last time. The girls wore white dresses; the boys,suits. Dr. John Haramy was the speaker of the evening. An ensemble from the Lyons Music Company of Crawfordsville presented several enjoyable selections. The twenty seniors proudly received diplomas to signify that they were graduates after twelve years of hard toil for them--and the teachers.

On April 9, the Alumni Banquet was held at the Fillmore school house. Several attended and all had a nice time, especially the seniors since this was their first year. It is hoped they all may be there in years to come.

Another high-lite of the year was the junior and senior reception, held in April. All the seniors who went enjoyed the evening and thanked the juniors for their last prom.

The group, including seniors, teachers, and others, left for a nine day trip on April 30, at 6:00 a.m. They saw Washington, D.C., Annapolis Naval Academy, New York City, Statue of Liberty, Niagara Falls, and Canada. Happy but tired they returned home on May 8. Those who were missing were: Anita Selsor, Patty Henderson, and Noble Alexander.

This ends their history for now, but it is hoped that their future history will be marked with success and outstanding events. It is also hoped that future years will be as happy as the past twelve years have been for them.

The End

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior class of 1949 of Fillmore High School, who are about to leave the cherished halls, being sound both mentally and physically, do hereby bequeath on this 29th day of April the following wordly possessions, characteristics, habits, and what have you, to the following and probably ungrateful receivers.

We, the Seniors on the basketball team, do hereby and forever bequeath to future basketball teams our ability to win the Wabash Valley and Sectional Tournaments, as no other F.H.S. team has done in the past.

We, the Senior world history class, do hereby and forever bequesth to the Junior boys a lifetime membership in our "Private Liars Club."

We, the Senior English Class, leave to Miss Joseph the hope for a better one next year.

We, the Seniors in sociology class, leave to the Junior class all the things we didn't learn in sociology.

We, the Senior government class, leave to the Juniors Miss Joseph and Harry Truman.

We, the Senior shop class, leave to the Junior shop class our wonderful welding ability--also the teacher, Mr. Paul Pruitt.

We, the Senior in typing class, leave to anyone who wants it, our ability to get more knowledge of typing by taking an extra half year.

We, the Seniors in chemistry, leave to Mr. Davidson's biology class, the odor of iodine; to Miss Molter, the fumes of ammonia and the formula for T.N.T.

We, the Seniors in bookkeeping class, leave to next years' bookkeeping class and Mrs. Goodman our love for practice sets.

We, the Seniors in shorthand class, leave to the future shorthand classes our love for dictation.

We, the Seniors in chorus, leave to Mrs. Reinstedt the memory of our golden and invaluable voices, and to the Senior chorus of next year, our hatred of "Kerry Dancers" and our love for "Go Down, Moses."

We, the Senior girls in home economics, leave to Miss Molter the Junior class, in hopes that they will recite more than we have.

We, the Seniors in advanced mathematics, leave to Mr. Johnson and the following classes all unused triangles, and the ability to understand logarithms.

We, the Seniors, leave to Mr. Smith our love for politics.

We, the Seniors, leave to Mr. Craig our invaluable ability to win CHAMPIONSHIPS.

We, the Seniors, leave to Mrs. Goodman the hope for another intelligent, cooperative class next year.

We, the Seniors, leave to Mr. Johnson--we have run out of anything, so we will just leave Johnson holding the bag.

To Miss Brattain, we leave a playroom equipped with everything to keep the kids out of mischief.

To Mrs. Hall, we leave a peck sack full of mouse traps. (She'll probably need them!)

To Mrs. Sutherlin, a dunce's cap for unwilling children.

To Miss Knetzer, we leave an automatic paddle so she can save her energy instead of wasting it on a paddle.

To Mrs. Rissler, we leave a perfect class, all A students and no meanness in them.

To Mr. Willen, we leave a straight jacket and a pair of hand cuffs to handle some of the meanest ones.

Our individual wills are as follows:

I, Noble Alexander, do hereby and forever bequeath to Wilborn Kendall my seat in the back corner of the study hall.

I, Peggy Arnold, do hereby and forever bequeath to Beverly Huber my love for blackheaded boys.

I, Wilma Arnold, do hereby and forever bequeath to Mary Alice Nichols the honor of being the first in the class to be engaged.

I, Kenneth Carpenter, do hereby and forever bequeath to Bill Long my love for sports.

I, Harry Custis, do hereby and forever bequeath to Roy Shoemaker my love for the Mt. Meridian women.

I, Gene Deweese, do hereby and forever bequeath to Stanley Nichols my curly black hair.

I, Madonna Goss, do hereby and forever bequeath to Barbara Kelley my love for shorthand.

I, Patty Henderson, do hereby and forever bequeath to John Charles Sears my love for government.

I, Rachel Lisby, do hereby and forever bequeath to Joyce Sibbitt my meanness in class.

I, Kathleen Kendall, do hereby and forever bequeath to Virginia Foster my love for going down the fire escape.

I, Thomas McNeil, do hereby and forever bequeath to Dale Newman my lovely slim figure.

I, Roland Neier, do hereby and forever bequeath to Maynard Miller my love for Greencastle girls.

I, Florence Pell, do hereby and forever bequeath to Royce Cavin my love for horses.

I, Judith Pruitt, do hereby and forever bequeath to Joan Cunningham my love for talking, especially in study halls, and to Rose Ellen Ruark, my love for dancing.

I, Vera Jean Ross, do hereby and forever bequeath to Coleen Phillips my love for home economics.

I, Anita Selsor, do hereby and forever bequeath to Joyce Boatright my red hair.

I, Noble Tharp, do hereby and forever bequeath to Fred Girton my love for wild women.

I, Don Thompson, do hereby and forever bequeath to Donna Bailey my dislike for Doyle Pickett.

I, Ethel Thompson, do hereby and forever bequeath to Betty Eastham my love for boys.

I, Wilma Wilson, do hereby and forever bequeath to Mr. Paul Pruitt my temper, and to Norris Webster my typing ability.

In witness whereof, we hereunto set our hands this twenty-ninth day of April in the year nineteen hundred and forty-nine.

Class Prophecy

One lovely spring day, a friend and I were walking down an old country lane. It was the end of April, a time much loved by tired students who are ready for vacation. Although we had graduated many years before, our thoughts had returned to old Fillmore High, and we were discussing our friends and old class mates. Just then, we spied what seemed to be an old junk pile, by the side of the road. Out of curiosity, we stopped. "What is that?" my friend asked, pointing to what seemed to be an old teapot. We walked toward the object, and picked it up for closer inspection.

"My, but it's dirty," I remarked, and proceeded to rub the dirt from it.

At the same moment, a dark cloud immediately descended upon us, and when it had cleared away, a little man stood before us. "What is your wish?" he asked in a quiet voice.

My friend and I went into a huddled conference. We agreed that we surely had found Aladdin's Lamp. "I know what we can request!" My friend turned back to him, and said, "Show us the members of the class of '49!"

"So it shall be," he answered.

The next thing we knew, after a rush of wind in our ears, we were standing in front of Sonny Alexander, in his office. Before we could say anything, a man in a uniform with the words, Sonny Side Trucking Company, came in. "Mr. Alexander, the load is ready to go. Will you give the final O.K.?" he asked.

Sonny signed the papers, then turned to us. "One of my best men," he said. "I am going to put him in charge of my Omaha office, soon." Yes, Sonny Alexander had come a long way from truck driving for the Fillmore Elevator.

We were just ready to ask him a question, when there was that rush of wind in our ears, and the next thing we saw was a lovely, white country home. "Go up and knock," we were instructed. We did as we were told, and who should open the door, but Peggy Arnold--Oh, pardon me, I mean Girton. Peggy told us that after graduation, she worked as typist for a firm in Indianapolis. However, when the Marines landed, she gave up that job, and took over another one--that of homemaker and housewife.

"Why don't you go see Wilma Wallace next?" Peggy said, when we told her that we couldn't stay long. She gave us the directions, and we were soon walking up a long drive, which led to a large house, surrounded by trees, and a beautiful lawn.

A maid opened the door for us, and told us that Mrs. Wallace, the former Wilma Arnold, would be down soon. Wilma came in, and we talked for awhile. She told us that she and Irvin were married the summer after graduation, and they started a cattle farm which is now thriving. Just before we left, the school bus stopped, and deposited Irvin, Jr., a dark, curly headed youngster, who bounded into the house and headed for the refrigerator.

Indianapolis was our next stop, for there, we were told, we would find Kenneth Carpenter, who coaches a very prominent team in the city.

Luckily, we found him at home, and he was happy enough to tell us of his ascent to his present position. Upon graduating, he entered I.U. to come through with flying colors. We met his wife and also his five year old son, who already was practicing foul shots in the back yard. Kenny said he wasn't sure just where we'd find Harry Custis, but he supposed around Fillmore somewhere, so back to Fillmore we came.

E464 100

Sure enough! We found him! By the way, does anyone know of an eligible girl who would like to marry a well-established farmer? Harry said he had been looking for the past eight years, but to no avail. If you do, contact him immediately.

We had no trouble at all finding Gene Deweese. Everyone knows what a great actor he has turned out to be, but we wanted to find out just how it all came about. So we turned toward Hollywood, and in a matter of seconds, we were standing in front of his dressing room. He let us in and gave us his story. Gene started his career as a professional loafer, but his work was interrupted when a talent scout saw him loitering on a corner in New York City, and signed him up as a stand-in for Gregory Peck. Junie, upon hearing the news, immediately rushed to his side. But, when she met Greg, she switched her affections. Gene is still a bachelor.

To see Madonna Goss, we returned to Greencastle, and went directly to the hospital. She was on a special case and couldn't see us immediately, but we waited. We knew that she had taken nurse's training at Indianapolis, and, as Madonna told us later, was offered the position she now holds at Greencastle. Although she isn't married, she pointed out a good looking young doctor that has been dating her for some time.

Wasson's, our next stop, was where we found Patty Henderson. Quite a career girl, we discovered! Starting in as a clerk, she worked her way to her present position, the head of the purchasing department. Patty is happy at her work, and the people working under her say they couldn't have a nicer "boss."

We had no idea at all where we would find Kathleen Kendall, but our guide took care of that, and we found ourselves in Kathleen's living room. She told us that "Skippy" gave her no peace until she consented to marry him, so now she is engrossed in her home, husband, and two lively boys.

"Hold your hats!" our guide told us. "This next trip is a little different." We did as we were told; the wind rushed past,whistling in our ears. When we finally stopped, we looked at one another in perplexity.

"Where are we?" we asked.

"China," our guide answered.

We were going to question him further, but just then whom should we see walking toward us, but Rachel Lisby! She met a young minister at Butler, who was taking post-graduate work. In the course of time they saw quite a lot of each other. Upon completing their work, they were married and are now doing missionary work in China.

After another breath-taking ride, we found ourselves again in the United States, and in the city of Washington, D. C. Our next stop was in front of a tall building, which contained Thomas McNeil's office. We were directed to his office, and upon entering, were met by his secretary. Not until she was convinced that we were old friends, did she let us see him. Thomas told us that he had attended DePauw after receiving a Rector scholarship and had graduated in 1953. He now has a job with the government, working to develop a peace-time use of atomic energy.

We found Roland Neier, Susie, and the five little Neiers, all boys, situated cozily on a farm north of Fillmore. Roland is busily engaged in his work as county agent, and Susie is kept busy separating the youngsters. Fillmore fans have high hopes for the future, when the five Neiers will take their place on the basketball team.

While still in Putnam County, it was suggested that we call on the former Wilma Wilson, now Mrs. John Danberry. We found them living in Greencastle. Wilma, who started in a firm as bookkeeper, still holds her job; while John works in Indianapolis. John plans to start his own business in Greencastle.

We quickly recognized the city of Indianapolis as our next stop. Our guide led us to one of the city's well known department stores, where we found Florence Pell working as a model. She was just ready to leave work, so we left together, and found a quiet eating place where we talked over old times. Florence didn't act too happy, so we tried to cheer her. Finally, she told us her trouble. It seems that one day during a fashion show, a handsome and eligible millionaire caught her eye and charmed her into accepting a date. They were getting along nicely, when he suddenly disappeared! We walked back with her to the store, and on the way, met Don Thompson. He said he had been looking for Florence for he wanted to ask her some questions.

We found that he was working on the case for Florence. As an F.B.I. agent, he had access to more fields of information, and he said that he was progressing nicely. He hoped to find the fellow in a very short time, for he said he was sure it was a kidnap case, and that someone just wanted to get his money.

Upon completing their business, they turned back to us, and we talked of happier things. Don told us that he was married to a lovely young girl, and that they had a two year old daughter. His home, he said, was in Washington, but his work took him all over the country.

After seeing such a complicated situation, we were happy to return to Fillmore, where we found Ethel Thompson teaching in the school. Upon graduating from State Teachers' College, she decided she liked the home town best of all, so she accepted the position of algebra teacher. But that's not all! She also is a house-wife. You know Ethel--she never could resist a dimple and a smile. Well, she married one of her students, and now is helping him through college.

Next we found ourselves in an entirely different atmosphere--that of the wide-open spaces, and the oil country. We were standing in front of a beautiful, country home; our guide told us to go up and knock at the door. A butler met us and asked us whom we wished to see. "Ask for Noble Tharp," our guide instructed us. We did so, and were finally conducted into a large room; a library obviously, for the walls were lined with books. Noble was busily engrossed in the latest novel, but he jumped up with a shout of delight when he saw it was someone from the home town. Naturally, we were curious as to how he had come so far in so short a time, so he told us. Being of the adventurous spirit, he decided to go west after graduating. One day while exploring creeks for fishing possibilities, he noticed an oily substance on the water, and decided to investigate. Yes! it was oil! Now, he is the head of a large concern, and is living in one of the show places of America--the home he built for his wife when they were married.

"Whom will we see next?" we wondered; we settled down for the ride. Our guide soon led us into Marshall Fields of Chicago. We were instructed to go to the beauticians department, and there we found Vera Jean Ross, in charge. She told us she had studied under Pierre LaRue, the famous beautician from Paris. She is doing quite well, and is happy at her work.

By this time we were quite accustomed to the methods by which we would suddenly arrive at some destination, so, after this visit we just settled back and soon were in an office. We were rather surprised to see Anita Selsor--Whitehead--walking toward us, for we expected to find her in a farm home. She told us, however, that she was working with Ted, who has his own program on the radio now. They have been married for some time, and, as Anita told us, are now busily engaged in building their new home.

"Well, just one more visit," our guide told us. "And do you know who that is?"

"Why of course!" we answered. "We haven't seen Judy Pruitt yet."

Whoosh! And the next thing we knew, we were on an airplane which was somewhere over the Atlantic. "Why are we here?" we wondered, but just then we spied Judy, sitting by a good looking gentleman.

"Well, hello!" She greeted us and asked us to come over. We found that she was buyer for a New York fashion store, and that she was on her way to Paris to have a look at the new spring fashions. Judy told us too, that she graduated from Purdue, where she met Baron von Castle. They seemed to hit it off all right, but after two days of married life, she found that he was a fake. In her travels all over the world, perhaps she will find someone who is more satisfactory, anyway.

Once again we were whirled away, but almost immediately we found ourselves walking along that peaceful, country lane. "Why are you holding that dirty old teapot?" my friend asked me. I felt a little hazy. I looked down at it and then up at her.

"I don't know," I answered, and gave it a toss. We continued on our walk.

The End

"Are you in earnest? Seize this very minute;
What you can do, or dream you can, begin it.
Boldness has genius, power and magic in it.
Only engage, and then the mind grows heated;
Begin--and then the work will be completed."
--Goethe

Senior Poem

The thought of the hour
Our hearts almost rend;
Because we must part
With our Fillmore High friends.

So long we have all
Been here with each other;
It seems like parting
From a sister or brother.

There's Noble Alexander,
The first on our list;
I'm sure that by many
He's going to be missed.

Peggy Arnold, with eyes of brown,
Her one and only has already found.
Dick Girton, the lucky one you see,
The husband of Peggy undoubtedly will be.

Wilma Arnold so proudly can flash
A large diamond ring that took plenty of cash;
We know that she will be very happy
With Irvin Wallace as her sweet "Pappy."

Kenneth Carpenter has passed his test
To bring honors to F. H. S.
As co-captain of our basket ball team
Yea, rah, Kenny! our fans did scream.

Harry Custis has been very shy
But a good student in Fillmore High;
A helping hand he would gladly lend;
We consider him a deserving friend.

Another class member, Gene Deweese,
A certain few he liked to tease;
He was the sheik of the '49 class,
The favorite beau of many a lass.

Madonna Goss our class did enter
In '45 from Floyd Center;
In shorthand class she did her best
And brought home an honor for F. H. S.

Has done her part on our last long mile;
Now that our journey is complete,
We all agree she's hard to beat.

Kathleen Kendall in her quiet way
Remained the same day by day;
Because of her unselfishness
She never caused anyone distress.

Rachel Lisby, a studious lass,
Gave much of her time to our '49 class.
A friend to all, she did her best
In the future we wish her success.

Thomas McNeil, whom everyone knows,
Will make a success wherever he goes.
To college this fall I'm sure that he'll start;
The dictionary he already knows by heart.

Roland Neier, a most ambitious gent,
On pleasing Susie he is bent.
He may go to college, be a farmer, or marry;
He had better decide and no longer tarry.

The next in line is Florence Pell
She always tries to do things well.
In class she always behaves just right
And is usually ready when asked to recite.

Judith Pruitt is hard to describe;
But she has been a favorite in our tribe;
Any task she could accomplish with ease;
Her teachers she really liked to tease.

Vera Jean Ross, so quiet and meek,
Into her diary we would like to peek.
We'll bet it's kept locked in a box
With all her letters from Charlie Cox.

Anita Selsor is better known as "Red"
Because of the crown upon her head.
If she makes her choice, a guy named Ted
Will change her name to Mrs. Whitehead.

Noble Tharp, president of our class,
Has often been naughty, but will pass;
Any joke by him--we will agree--
Is good enough for you and me.

Donald Thompson hopes to be a success
When he leaves the shelter of F. H. S.
To be a farmer is his ambition,
I'm sure it will be a worthwhile mission.

Ethel Thompson, editor of our school paper,
Also as cheerleader, cuts a caper.
She has won honors--both great and small;
And will enter Indiana State this coming fall.

Wilma Wilson, so proud of her boy friend
To no other girl she'll ever lend him.
As editor of our annual this year,
She hopes to leave a word of cheer.

Each member packed a traveling grip
And started on our vacation trip.
Our last days together numbered nine;
They were happy days, yours and mine.

Many things our group has done;
In doing such, we've had lots of fun.
Though sometimes naughty, and sometimes good,
We did the things we thought we should.

But now, we are leaving;
Our pathway divides;
We will soon be forgotten
By those who abide.

Our seats will be vacant,
Our faces be gone;
Fillmore High School
No longer our home.

So, good-bye, dear friends;
Our hearts fill with pain
When we think that we never
Will be together again.

But if on this earth
We never more meet,
I'm sure we will gather
At our Savior's feet.

The End

Class Song

We brush tears from our eyes
For now we realize that the ache in our hearts is for you;
Through your grades we did rise
Now we realize that we'll always be grateful to you.
Though we're far away
Still in our hearts will stay
The memories of you and many a happy day;
Yes, we brush tears from our eyes
As now we say, "Goodbye"
F.H.S., we'll be loyal to you.

JUNIORS COMPLETE THAT "NEXT TO THE LAST" YEAR

In September 1938, twenty-nine members of last year's thirty-one sophomores came back eagerly to Fillmore School. June Thomas was not among the group as she had moved to Greencastle. However, there was a new member, Wilborn Kendall. Lloyd Nichols was also placed on the class roll. Before Christmas, the class lost two members, Dorothy Kelley, who quit, and Lloyd Nichols, who left for the army.

On September 17, the juniors were especially happy because the long-awaited class rings had arrived. Hands fluttered all day!

With the help of Mrs. Goodman, the juniors elected the following class officers: president, Wilborn Kendall; vice president, Norman Custis, treasurer, Coleen Phillips; secretary, Dick Jones; reporter, Rose Ellen Ruark.

The last weeks of September were busy ones for the juniors. They had a magazine subscription drive and how the sales flew! Their goal of $700 was reached and passed. The "Sad Sacks" sold more subscriptions than did the "Hep Cats" and were guests at a party given by the losers. Christmas cards and wrapping papers were sold, also.

On March 10, the class play, "The Boarding House Reach," was finally presented. Due to the illnesses of two members of the cast, the play had been postponed twice. Members who took part were: Joan Cunningham, Mary Alice Nichols, Donna Bailey, Russell Harcourt, Coleen Phillips, Beverly Huber, Marlene Newkirk, John Charles Sears, Geneva Dozier, Wilborn Kendall, Leon Arnold, Dick Jones, Noble Sutherlin, Betty Eastham, and Rose Ellen Ruark. Noble Tharp, a senior, took the part of a detective since Bill Long was not present.

The pride of the junior class were the boys who were members of the Cardinal team. They were: Leon Arnold, Russell Harcourt, Fred Girton, Dick Jones, Norman Custis, Noble Sutherlin, and Maynard Miller.

On Friday, March 18, the school paper staff was selected for 1949 and 1950. Members of the staff will be Leon Arnold, editor; Maynard Miller, associate editor; Joan Cunningham, business manager; Mary Alice Nichols and Bill Long, editorial writers; Dick Jones and Rose Ellen Ruark, advertising managers; Donna Bailey and Betty Eastham, art editors; Coleen Phillips and John Sears, sports editors; Marlene Newkirk, feature writer; Geneva Dozier, exchange editor; Beverly Huber, departmental editor; Wilborn Kendall, circulation manager; Fred Girton and Norman Custis, mimeograph operators.

On March 21, three girls from the class won individual and team honors in the county typing contest held in Greencastle. Beverly Huber won first; Rose Ellen Ruark, second; and Joan Cunningham, third; as individuals. They won first as a team.

The climax of the year was the junior-senior reception which was held at the Deming Hotel in Terre Haute on Saturday, April 23. The whole group became "Forty-Niners" to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the historical "Gold Rush" of 1849.

In their next and last year, the group look forward to many new fields to explore.

SOPHOMORES HAVE BUSY YEAR

Eighteen "silly sophomores" entered high school in the fall of '48. On the thirteenth of September, Dorothy Everroad increased this number by one, and it remained nineteen until January 21 when she withdrew.

It was on September 10, that the sophomores had their chance to get even by "taking it out" on the freshmen at initiation. The freshmen were forced to eat eyeballs (skinned grapes) and other odd things. Also the freshmen had the biggest shocks of their lives. Ham salad sandwiches, cokes, and potato chips were served as refreshments.

With the assistance of Mr. Davidson, the class sponsor, the class elected the following officers: Donald Ruark, president; Stanley Smith, vice president; Jeanne Tharp, secretary; Norris Webster, treasurer, and Joyce Boatright, reporter.

A skating party at Hazelwood near the first of school was much enjoyed by all. Everyone, who didn't fall down, had fun skating. All drank pop for refreshment.

At the class party on January 14, weiners, potato chips, candy, and cokes were served. The group thoroughly enjoyed the dancing and games which followed. The party lasted from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

On February 1, the sophomores gathered in Room 4, and without a quarrel or trouble, they selected their class rings.

Now as the year ends, they are happy to give their corner of the study hall to the freshmen. Good luck, Freshmen!

The End

THANKS!

Thanks are due
To the following few.

Johnny Bob Zeiner was sure a hard worker,
He wrote his class history and wasn't a shirker.

Joyce Boatright and Jean Selsor did slave
And to this, our annual, their history gave.

The junior class history wasn't easy to write,
But Mary Alice Nichols wrote it all right.

"GREEN" FRESHMEN RIPEN

Twenty-nine "green" freshmen gathered in the halls of Fillmore High School on August 27, 1948. These included the old group plus one, David Carrico from Cathedral High School in Indianapolis.

On September 10, the sophomores, in a ceremony called initiation, shocked the new freshmen (with the aid of a six volt battery) into the realization that they were now full-fledged members of Fillmore High School.

As guides, the class elected Shirley Sue Merritt, president; Jimmy Walton, vice president; Joyce Arnold, secretary-treasurer; and John R. Zeiner, reporter. Mr. Smith was the class sponsor.

Of the twelve boys in the class, five--Gary Newman, Max Zaring, Herschel Robinson, Joe Anderson, and Marvin Ross--were members of the F.H.S. second team in basketball. Joyce Ellen Arnold was elected yell leader.

November 10 was the date of the class party. It was a success, and everyone had a delightful time.

After a full year, the freshmen have definitely "ripened" and are all ready to replace the sophomores next year.

Our Team

Kenny Carpenter is co-captain of our fine team;
He is wide awake and on the beam.
For jumping center he is well known;
His baskets make the other side groan.

Freddie Girton is co-captain too;
If it weren't for him, what would we do?
He tangles with boys, both short and tall,
And usually comes out with the ball.

Another boy who has won much fame,
And always plays a very good game,
Is Roland Neier of the senior class
Who is interested in a Greencastle lass.

Next in line is David Grimes,
Who is on his toes at all times;
He is very fast and has no fear;
He'll be on the team again next year.

Leon Arnold has curly hair;
During the game he does his share.
He is known for his superior shooting;
For him the crowd is always rooting.

Another ball player is Noble Tharp;
At playing ball he is really sharp.
He is a boy who is blonde and tall;
He's an "okay player," all in all.

Don Thompson is a player too;
He is happy when he puts one through.
As every fan knows, of course,
He is ever a reliable source.

Gene Deweese has done well this year;
He makes the crowd stand up and cheer.
He plays in every game--part of the time--
Before the final bells do chime.

Donnie Ruark, who is a sophomore,
Really fights when he gets on the floor.
The crowd is happy when he appears;
He also looks good for future years.

Maynard Miller, who is known as "Tater,"
At playing ball is quite a "rater."
He is a junior, so have no fear,
He'll be with F.H.S. again next year.

Bobby Broadstreet is known as Bob;
In playing ball he does his job.
Whenever he goes down the floor,
There is bound to be another score.

Charlie Phillips is known as "Chuck;"
To the team he brings much luck,
A very mischievous little boy is he;
But when it comes to ball, he's serious as can be.

Dick Jones is a number one boy;
From playing ball he gets much joy.
He can dribble and shoot, too;
So to him our praise is due.

Gerald Carpenter, a sophomore,
Makes things hum when he's on the floor.
He may not be so very tall,
But he sure knows how to handle that ball.

And then we have Gilbert Duncan;
For playing ball he's really your man.
Although he isn't Sammy Kaye,
He can make that ball "swing and sway."

Russell Harcourt can be seen everywhere;
He is another guy with curly hair.
If you want to win without too much fuss,
Then on your team have good old Russ.

Here is a boy who always likes to play;
When given a chance he will do okay.
Noble Sutherlin is his name;
He does his best through all the game.

Norman Custis is quite a "guy,"
With Middy Girton he rates very high;
In the future you will see,
What a good player he can be.

The next boy in line has much height;
And he plays ball with all his might,
He goes by the title of Marvin Ross;
Without him we would be at a loss.

Gary Newman has curly hair;
During a game he does his share;
Everyone should know that Gary
Will never lag behind or tarry.

Herschel Robinson is a sharp-shooting ace;
When he plays ball, he sets the pace.
If you don't believe what we tell you,
Just come and see what he can do.

On our team is a boy of much daring;
Everyone knows him as Max Zaring.
He plays ball with all his heart,
And he always does his part.

Last on the list for old Fillmore High
Is Stanley Smith, a remarkable guy.
Not only does he play basketball,
But he is student manager for them all.

AND ALSO--
We must give our praise to our fine coach, too;
He is the one who brought the boys through.
Mr. William Craig is the name of this man;
If he can't do it, then nobody can.

Three other people, who worked hard this year
And always did their share with cheer,
Are Marlene, Ethel and Joyce
Who were everybody's choice.

There are other helpers who back the team;
We're sure you know just whom we mean,
They are the fans who yell and cheer
And follow the team throughout the year.

Amos Hunter plays an important part
By getting the team there in time to start.
The boys appreciate his generosity;
And gratefully say, "Thanks a lot, Musty."

HIGHLITES OF THE SOFTBALL SEASON

Contrary to the old saying, "A poor beginning, a bad ending," the F.H.S. softball team started the season with a 20 to 3 victory over Bainbridge and continued to the end of the season to win the county softball championship.

The Cards won five out of six of their regularly scheduled games. It was in the last game against Roachdale that Roy "Runt" Shoemaker's remarkable pitching held the opponents to only one run with the final score 18 to 1.

Since the season ended in a tie with Russellville, the championship game was played at Robe Ann Park in Greencastle on October 20. A very close game was won by F.H.S. with a score of 8 to 7.

The team this year consisted of Roy Shoemaker, pitcher; Gerald Carpenter, catcher; Gilbert Duncan, first baseman; David Grimes, second baseman; Kenneth Carpenter, third baseman; Donald Ruark, short stop; Fred Girton, center fielder; Harry Custis, right fielder; Roland Neier, left fielder. Substitutes for the year were Herschel Robinson, Max Zaring, Gary Newman, Marvin Ross, Stanley Smith.

Calendar

Aug. 27 School opened with a bang. Everyone seemed to be in good spirits after the summer vacation. The seniors were without a sponsor as Miss Joseph was still enjoying a trip.

Sept. 3 Class officers were elected and plans for the coming year were begun. Noble Tharp campaigned for three days to get to be president of the senior class. He made it, too. (Never let it be said Nobe didn't try.)

3 Softball season opened. At Roachdale, Fillmore surprised Bainbridge and self by winning the game; score 25 to 3.

6 School was dismissed for Labor Day to the happiness of many students. My! My! Vacation so-o-o soon!(It should be called "Play Day.")

8 During the week several students were caught playing hooky. Fair winners and goers were among those absent.

8 Porter Studio representative came to see the seniors about pictures.

9 Freshmen received instructions as to how they were to appear the next day for the "costume ball."

10 The "ball" was really something to see. The party of that night went off with a "shock."

13 Magazine man came to see the juniors. A goal of $600 was set! Thomas McNeil got a month ahead of the calendar; he dressed to have his picture taken.

15 Fillmore tramped over Belle Union in a "hair raising" softball game at Greencastle; score 6 to 4.

20 Junior class rings arrived. My, such conceited juniors as F. H. S. has! They always think their rings are the prettiest ever.

21 Due to rain, the softball game with Roachdale was postponed. Everyone at old F.H.S. was shot today.(Mr.Stone took group pictures.)

22 Fillmore journeyed to Cloverdale for a softball game. F.H.S. beat Cloverdale 6 to 4.

27 Fillmore had its first defeat in a really startling game of softball. Final score was 2 to 0 in favor of Roachdale.

Oct. 1 In a softball game between Fillmore and Reelsville the score was 10 to 4 in favor of Fillmore.

8 Junior magazine party. That names signify nothing was proved when the Hep Cats had to entertain the Sad Sacks because the former did not make its goal.

13 The school found it had some nice looking seniors after all--when they came dressed in their "Sunday Best" for that event of picture taking. Some girls wore jeans. There was a fire drill. Such dirty people!

15 Coleen Phillips and Wilborn Kendall represented F.H.S. at the Bainbridge carnival. They were elected as the King and Queen of Fillmore.

20 F.H.S. won the county SOFTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP. Fillmore played Russellville in the final game. Score was 8 to 7.

27 Yell leaders elected: Marlene Newkirk, and Joyce Arnold. Ethel was held over from last year.
28 Halloween Carnival----Goblins, witches, and even devils were out tonight. A large crowd turned out, too.
Nov. 1 Seniors began a two week-magazine drive. Their goal was $600.
3 Basketball season opened for Fillmore with a victory over Cloverdale 43 to 22.
9 Patty Masten and Middy Girton were elected Junior High yell leaders.
11 School was dismissed for Armistice Day. A war memorial was dedicated at Greencastle.
12 Stilesville beat Fillmore 32-27. Fillmore's first defeat.
17 Fillmore beat Belle Union 44 to 34.
19 New Winchester was the second Hendricks County team to defeat the Cards in a basketball game this year. Final score was 32-27.
21 School house began receiving a new face (paint) and all-around improvements.
23 Amo, another Hendricks County team, defeated Fillmore in a basketball game; score 43 to 29.
24 Another vacation; this time to eat turkey for Thanskgiving.
27 Junior paper drive. The juniors really had fun collecting it.
Dec. 2 Robert Kieser, a blind minister with his seeing eye dog, came to school and talked to us. He showed us the way he was led by his dog.
3 Fillmore was beaten by their rival basketball team, Bainbridge, by a one point margin. Score 45 to 44.
6 At last, the seniors received their pictures. Miss Joseph set up an art gallery in her room. Junior high and freshmen basketball season opened. Jr. high 17, Belle Union 11; Jr. high 12, Roachdale 15. The freshmen in their first game, beat Belle Union by a score of 29-8;- in their second game, they beat Roachdale 17 to 14.

CALENDAR, Continued

Dec. 20 Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Reinstedt, sang at the County Home. Senior Home Ec. class made cookies and candy for the folks at the home.

22 The boys and girls in the grades presented a Christmas operetta, "The Toys That Had to Wait," before the school and a crowd of parents.

23 Vacation and last minute Christmas shopping. Better hurry before Santa beats you!!

23 Christmas dance sponsored by juniors and seniors. "Really, an orchestra and dance powder," was a remark made by someone who just couldn't believe his eyes and ears.

24 Everyone dressed up for last day of school in 1948, but the juniors and seniors had to clean up after the dance. "Be careful of those hose," was heard everywhere. Seniors acted as Santa, and then all went home for a vacation, many nice things to eat, and many presents.

24 to Jan.3 VACATION!! Everyone stuffed himself with holiday goodies.

25 Wilma Arnold was the first senior girl to become engaged.

Jan. 3 Back to school!!! Report cards handed out today because Mr. Johnson was afraid he'd hear something like this if he did it before Christmas: "I forgot where I put my card; I guess I threw it away with the Christmas wrappings." He saved making new cards. (Very smart of him, don't you think?)

5 Fillmore beat Cloverdale for the second time this season. Final score was 24-63.

7 Fillmore downed Russellville in a basketball game; score: 44 to 50.

11 Seniors began annual sales.

14 Sophomores had their class party. A very happy time.

22 Fillmore made county history when they beat Bainbridge in their first game of the Wabash Valley tourney preliminaries by a surprising score of 41 to 28. Hurrah for Fillmore!! Saturday night Fillmore made even greater history than they had in the afternoon by winning the Wabash Valley Tourney from Roachdale by a score of 33-27. All fans were sitting on the edges of their seats all the way through the game. After the game, all journeyed to Fillmore where there was a big bonfire and celebration.

24 No classes. There was a pep session the first thing in the morning; then there was a victory march through town with the basketball boys leading. Dancing took up a large part of the morning which remained; then dancing after lunch until 1 o'clock, at which time school was dismissed for the day.

28 Belle Union game was postponed because of the fact that the Cards had to go to Terre Haute.

28 Fillmore beat Tangier in their first game at the Wabash Valley semi-finals at Terre Haute. Score was 43-29. Glenn defeated Fillmore in their second game at Terre Haute. Score was 54 to 39. Monroe City beat Attica in the final game to win the Wabash Valley Tourney.

Feb. 2 Fillmore again beat Bainbridge, 40 to 42, at Greencastle.

4 Russellville beat Fillmore two points at Bainbridge. Score was 46 to 44.

5 Junior paper drive. Thanks to Amos Hunter.

7 Fillmore beat Belle Union in a "thriller diller" there by ten points. The score was 52 to 42.

9 Fillmore beat Reelsville at Greencastle. The score was 71 to 35.

11 Roachdale beat Fillmore at Greencastle by two points. The score was 50 to 48.

14 Valentine's Day. Hearts fluttered everywhere.

16 Junior play was postponed because Marlene Newkirk had a sore throat.

17 Annual pictures were taken by Mr. Stone of Indianapolis.

18 Fillmore beat Stilesville, there. The score was 36 to 27.

19 Junior play was again postponed. This time Leon Arnold had the mumps.

24-25-26 Sectional Tourney. Fillmore played Cloverdale on Friday night and won. The score was 30 to 46. On Saturday afternoon, Fillmore beat Greencastle by a score of 32 to 27 for the first time in twenty years. Saturday evening F.H.S. again defeated Roachdale to win the Sectional Tourney. This was the second time this year the Cards had won a CHAMPIONSHIP from Roachdale. The score was 48 to 46.

27 Freddie Girton was in an accident near Commercial Place in Greencastle. He was bruised but that didn't stop Freddie.

28 No celebration until Freddie returned to school. He arrived at 10:30. There was dancing until noon after a pep session. The Roachdale basketball boys came to congratulate F.H.S. and help in the celebration.

Mar. 5 Fillmore traveled to Attica to meet one of the favored teams in the section. They played Waveland at 1:00 and beat them by a score of 35 to 27. In the evening game, Fillmore was downed by Attica, the runners-up in the Wabash Valley Tourney. The score was 62 to 32. Fillmore was very proud of their team for 1948 and 1949.

10 The junior play was presented. Lady Luck at last smiled. Noble Tharp, a senior, took the part of a detective so that the play could be given.

11 A basketball dinner was held in the gym in honor of the ball boys of 1948 and 1949. Many awards were given. The dinner was prepared by those who came as it was a pitch-in dinner. Table decorations were made by the home economics class.

15-16 The Junior high tourney was played at Greencastle. Fillmore beat Russellville in the opening game. The second game gave Fillmore a defeat by 25 points. Greencastle was their opponent. Greencastle won the tourney.

19 Jasper won the State Championship.
19 County Contests were held at Greencastle. Contestants were sent for spelling, algebra, and beginning and advanced typing. Fillmore's beginning typing team placed first and the advanced typing team rated second. The algebra team tied with Bainbridge for first place.
25 Junior class finally had their class party originally scheduled for February.
April 2 Junior paper drive. More fun!
23 Junior and senior reception was held! Dinner and dancing were enjoyed by all who were there. The girls looked very pretty in their party dresses.
24 Baccalaureate was held at the Methodist Church with Reverend Robert Robinson as speaker.
28 Commencement, at the Christian Church, was a very white affair this year. The girls wore white dresses. Doctor John Haramy was the speaker.
30 Seniors left for Washington, New York, Canada, and Niagara Falls, at 6:30 A.M. All tried to look their best but they were very sleepy.
May 8 Tired, but happy, the seniors and those who went with them returned home to begin their work and vacation.

THANKS ALSO--

To Pody and also to Donna we say,
Thanks for the prophecy, it's O.K!

Although Miss Joseph put up with our pranks
She did our proofreading, to her we give thanks!

Caroline Bridges was helpful indeed,
She gave us her camera in time of our need.

And then our advertisers we must not leave out,
For they have supported and helped us, no doubt.

And last but not least, to all those not mentioned,
We send out our thanks with real good intention.

JUNIORS GO "OVER THE TOP" IN MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

During a two week's campaign in September, 1948, the juniors went over their goal of $700 in a magazine subscription drive.

The class was divided into two teams, the Sad Sacks and the Hep Cats. Leon Arnold was captain of the first and Rose Ellen Ruark, the latter. The goal for each was $350.

Results proved that one can't rely on a name, for the Sad Sacks with a total of $443.20 defeated the Hep Cats with a total of $271.90.

As a result, the Hep Cats were hosts at the party for the winners. The party, with a pint of ice cream for each (the ice cream was furnished by the company representative), was much enjoyed by all.

Special awards were given by the company to "super salesmen." Those who received a "Citation for Service" for sales over $50 were Betty Eastham, Geneva Dozier, Dick Jones, Joan Cunningham, Rose Ellen Ruark, and Coleen Phillips. John Charles Sears received the highest award, a club pin, as his sales were $112. The required amount for the pin was $100.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS SPONSOR A HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

On October 28, the juniors and seniors sponsored a Halloween carnival in the school building. There was food and entertainment for everyone from 6 to 60. Several came masked; this added to the fun of the evening.

The entertainment consisted mainly of bingo, a masquerade, a mystery house, shadow show, corn guessing contest, turkey raffle, chances on a radio, a one act play, "The Lamp Went Out," a minstrel, and a talent show.

A large crowd was present and the carnival was a success--financially to the classes--and fun for everybody.

SENIORS HAVE MAGAZINE DRIVE

On November 1, the seniors began a magazine drive; the goal was set at $600. Due to previous magazine sales in the same territory, their total sales were only $410.

As a first day incentive, each one who sold subscriptions received one wooden nickel for each magazine sold. (Thirteen nickels are now in circulation, so watch those six seniors!)

The class was divided into two teams, the Soap Savers with Anita Selsor as captain, and the Dirty Necks, with Thomas McNeil as captain. The Soap Savers total sales were $226; the Dirty Necks, $184.

Judith Pruitt was the super salesman on the official last day of the contest with $58 to her credit. Following that date, however, Roland Neier topped this total by $5. Rachel Lisby gained third honors with sales amounting to $43. Others who received certificates for sales over $30 were Anita Selsor, Tom McNeil, Peggy Arnold, and Madonna Goss.

SENIOR CHORUS HAS BUSY YEAR

The senior shorus is composed of advanced singers in high school. This year it included six boys--Noble Tharp, Roland Neier, Thomas McNeil, and Wilborn Kendall, tenors; and Kenneth Carpenter, and Donald Thompson, bass. Alto voices were Jeanne Ann Tharp, Mary Ann Cash, Marlene Newkirk, Cornelia Sears, and Linda Shipman. The sopranos were Donna Bailey, Jean Selsor, Joyce Boatright, Audrey Walls, Barbara Kelley, Joy Ward, and Betty Lou Lawson.

During rehearsal time, which was the first period in the morning, there never seemed to be a lack of amusing incidents to break the monotony of drill and practice. The group started the year with vocal exercises and an extensive analysis of Tschaikowski's Nutcraicker Suite--both from the standpoint of the music and the composer.

Religious numbers were presented at the Christian Church revival. During the Christmas season the chorus entertained at the County Farm, and climaxed the evening by carolling at various homes in Fillmore. In spite of the brisk winter air and a little car trouble, a fine time was had by all,--with candy and cookies offered at every door!

Between acts of the junior play the chorus again performed, singing three semi-popular numbers. Later in the spring a choral program, which featured popular, classical, and novelty selections was presented. Baccalaureate music culminated the year's activities.

FRESHMAN HOMEMAKERS SERVE LUNCHEONS

During the month of December the freshman home ec. class served luncheons to the faculty.

The first luncheon was served on December 6. Hostesses at this luncheon were Joyce Arnold, Shirley Merritt, Virginia Truesdel, Sharon Miller, Rose Ellen Huller, and Juanita Runnells. The guests were Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Rissler, Miss Brattain, Mr. Smith, Mr. Davidson and Mr. Willen.

The second luncheon was served on December 9. Hostesses were Betty Broadstreet, Joy Ward, Betty Lawson, Cornelia Sears, and Joyce Sibbitt. Guests were Mrs. Reinstedt, Mr. Craig, Mr. Paul Pruitt, Mrs. Sutherlin, and Miss Knetzer.

The final luncheon was served on Wednesday, December 15. Linda Sue Shipman was the hostess. Those who assisted were Caroline Bridges, Freda Cunningham, Betty Sutherlin, Virginia Redding, and Onetia Runnells. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pruitt, Miss Joseph, Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Goodman were the guests.

The luncheons were under the direction of Miss Molter, home ec. teacher.

The food at the luncheons was delicious, and the girls were capable hostesses and waitresses. The guests expressed heartfelt appreciation to the girls not only for the food, but also for their efficiency as hostesses.

COUNTY SCHOOLS ARE DISMISSED FOR ARMISTICE DAY DEDICATION

On November 11, all county schools were dismissed so students could attend the dedication services for the World War II Memorial at Greencastle.

Rear Admiral A.G. Noble, U.S.N. Chief of the Bureau of Ordinance, Washington, D.C. gave the address.

Plans for the memorial were made, and contributions were collected by the Greencastle V.F.W.

X-RAY TESTS GIVEN TO STUDENTS

Amos Hunter and Ira Nichols drove school buses to Greencastle on December 7, with a load of seniors, juniors and ball boys. This group of students received their tuberculin X-rays. Mr. Craig and Mr. Johnson accompanied the group.

CHRISTMAS OPERETTA PRESENTED

On Wednesday, December 23, fifty-seven children took part in the Christmas operetta, "The Toys That Had To Wait." The main characters were Santa Claus, played by Tommy Merritt; Mrs. Santa Claus, Martha Bryan; and the fairy queen, Gail Irwin.

Groups of nurse dolls, jumping jacks, tin soldiers, tops, candy canes, and balloons added to the entertainment by singing and dancing.

The clown was played by Jim Carrico; French doll, Charlotte Miller; Negro doll, Rosetta McNeil; circus dancer, Janice Beaman; Dutch dolls, Randall Collins and Gloria Maxwell.

The operetta was directed by Mrs. Reinstedt.

CHRISTMAS DANCE IS HELD DECEMBER 23

The junior and senior classes of Fillmore High School sponsored a Christmas dance on Thursday, December 23. The dance, which was held in the gymnasium, lasted from nine until twelve.

Harold Applegate's orchestra furnished the music. A vocalist presented several interesting numbers. Games were played. Punch, mints and cake were served.

The Christmas spirit prevailed with soft lights, a huge Christmas tree, punch bowl, holly, mistletoe, and all the trimmings. About one hundred persons were present and all had a wonderful time.

SENIORS TAKE SCHOLARSHIP TESTS

Three Seniors, Judith Pruitt, Ethel Thompson, and Thomas McNeil, took state scholarship tests in the County Superintendent's office on February 10. Judith selected Purdue as first choice; Ethel, Indiana State Teachers' College, while Thomas chose Indiana University.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

The junior class play, "The Boarding House Reach," a three act comedy, was presented in the assembly, March 10, 1949 to a large and delighted audience.

The story was about Wilbur and the hard time he had getting a bicycle. Pop left suddenly on a business trip; the family finally persuaded Mom to go along. Wilbur was left to "man the house." He suddenly found a way to get his bicycle--he would use the house as a boarding house while the folks were away. The house was soon swarming with people. In the middle of it all, Mom and Pop came home. Nothing was impossible after that, and the whole thing was uproarious.

The characters were as follows: Wilbur, 13 year old son, Dick Jones; Hercules Nelson, Wilbur's best pal, John Charles Sears: Betty Lou Maxwell, teen-age daughter, Marlene Newkirk; Connie Maxwell, older daughter, Donna Bailey; Bernadine Smith, Betty Lou's friend, Geneva Dozier; John Maxwell, father and business man, Leon Arnold; Janet Maxwell, understanding mother, Beverly Huber; Aunt Mary, Mrs. Maxwell's aunt, Mary Alice Nichols; Limpy McGuire, a guest, Wilborn Kendall; Nora, Limpy's wife, Joan Cunningham; Herman "Ninety-Volt" Jones, prize fighter, Russell Harcourt; Roughhouse Ruby, Herman's dominating wife and wrestling champion, Rose Ellen Ruark; Mr. Potter, insurance salesman, Noble Sutherlin; Lucy Burns, walking encyclopedia, Coleen Phillips; Mrs. Mott, little old lady who never says a word, Betty Eastham; Connolly, a plain-clothes man, Bill Long. Mr. Paul Pruitt was the director.

Although Lady Luck seemed to be missing and the play had to be postponed from February 16 to February 19, then again until March 10, the play was very good. Marlene Newkirk's sore throat was the first fatal stroke, and Leon Arnold's mumps the second. The production was then forced to wait until after the sectional tourney.

SENIORS TAKE COUNTY TESTS

The teachers of the county were asked to send in three questions to Mr. Hutchins on different subjects. From these Mr. Hutchins chose seventy-five questions to be given to all county seniors.

Fillmore Results: Thomas McNeil, first in the class, second in the county; Judith Pruitt, second in the class, fourth in the county; Roland Neier, third in the class, eighth in the county; Wilma Wilson, fourth in the class and tenth in the county.

BIOLOGY STUDENTS DO OUTSTANDING WORK

The freshmen biology students, directed by Mr. Davidson, have made a number of good drawings during their year's work. An exhibit was held so that the parents and general public could see them.

Included in the exhibit was a collection of butterflies and moths; it proved interesting to many people. These, some thirty or forty in number, were exhibited in Riker mounts.

F.H.S. JUNIOR RED CROSS IS ACTIVE

Members of the Fillmore Junior Red Cross did many helpful things during the year. They were directed by Mrs. Lola Rissler, second grade teacher.

Three scrap books were made. Mrs. Rissler's second grade group made one of them; Miss Knetzer's first grade group, another. These two were given to the Putnam County Hospital. The third, made by Miss Joseph, went to the Riley Hospital.

Fifty Christmas favors were made for the Putnam County Hospital by members in Miss Brattain's third grade and Mrs. Sutherlin's fourth grade. The attractive red and green favors were used on the patients' trays.

Members of the chorus under the direction of Mrs. Reinstedt sang Christmas carols at the County Farm on December 20. Candy and cookies made in the home economics department, under the direction of Miss Molter, were distributed, on the same day, to the elderly people living at the County Farm.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS STUDENTS STUDY WELDING

For the first year, the industrial arts students studied and did some welding. During their classes they made typing tables for the commercial room, farm gates, and trailers. Some of the group made 4-H club boxes for projects they will take to the fair.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS DO OUTSTANDING WORK ON HOME PROJECTS

The girls in the home economics department under the supervision of Miss Molter did some outstanding work in home projects during the year. The projects were related to their class work. The actual work was done at home but each girl had a conference with Miss Molter one period each week. At that time, she was given any needed assistance. The projects were exhibited at a program and style show in April.

GIRLS WILL BE BOYS PRESENTED

The senior play "Girls Will Be Boys" was presented to a host of people in the assembly in April. The play centered around Gubby and Peewee, members of a college fraternity. Gubby was a real book-worm; Peewee desired only to be a football player. When the girls' sorority visited the boys' "dorm" for a tea, events really moved rapidly.

Later, to get fame for the fraternity, the boys decided to steal the famous boot of the "Founder of the College." The girls' sorority had the same aim in mind, and were a little quicker than the boys. The missing boot caused many up-roars and was the center of attraction.

Characters were: Peewee Tozier, the pride of the team; Gubby Carter, majoring in biology; Bunny Chase, A Gamma Beta; Rip Daggett, another Gamma Beta; Babe Orzie, a freshman; Rowena Phillips, a Sigma Chi; Faylene Blair, another Sigma Chi; Professor Potter, Dean of men; Miss Tolbert, Dean of women; Avis Mayhew, also a Sigma Chi; Mrs. Thomkins, President of Colfax Historical Society; Martha Briggs, Custodian of Colfax Historical Society.

F.H.S. STUDENTS ENTER COUNTY CONTESTS

Spelling Contestants Compete

Members of the various grades selected to represent Fillmore in the county spelling contest were: Dennis Tincher, fourth, Gail Irwin, fifth; Wilma Zaring, sixth; Marlene Tharp, seventh, and Janet Owens, eighth.

The county grand champion was Barbara Dreher, of Reelsville.

Algebra Contestants Tie For First

Freda Smith and Jean Selsor, F.H.S. representatives in the algebra contest, tied for first place with Gene Clodfelter, Russellville; Oval Myers, Roachdale; Donna Blois, Bainbridge; and Marjorie Fonner, Bainbridge. These six people had perfect papers.

Typing Teams Win County Contest

The beginning typing team composed of Beverly Huber, Rose Ellen Ruark, and Joan Cunningham took county honors in the typing contest held on March 19.

As individuals Beverly won first, with 43 words a minute; Rose Ellen, second, with 41.96; and Joan, third, with 36.3. They won first as a team with an average of 40.42 words per minute. Russellville placed second as a team with an average of 22.78 words per minute.

In advanced typing the team composed of Vera Jean Ross, Wilma Wilson, and Anita Selsor placed second as a team, with an average of 29.36. Wilma Wilson placed fourth as an individual with a score of 37.4 words per minute. Roachdale won first.

JUNIORS RECEIVE MAGAZINE SALES AWARDS

Special awards were given by the Crowell-Collier Publishing Company, to the "super salesmen" of the Junior class. Six people received a "Citation for Service" as their sales reached $50. They were: Betty Eastham, Geneva Dozier, Dick Jones, Joan Cunningham, Rose Ellen Ruark and Coleen Phillips. John Charles Sears received the highest award, a club pin, as his sales reached $112.

SENIORS RECEIVE MAGAZINE SALES AWARDS

Special awards were given to the Seniors whose sales reached $30 or more. Judith Pruitt received a "salesmanship pin" for sales amounting to $58. Others whose sales were $30 or more, and who received certificates were: Rachel Lisby, Roland Neier, Tom McNeil, Anita Selsor, Peggy Arnold, and Madonna Goss.

BASKETBALL AWARDS GIVEN

The following awards were presented to the Cardinals of F.H.S. on March 11 at the basketball dinner.

Don Thompson, Kenneth Carpenter, Roland Neier, Gene Deweese, and Noble Tharp--all senior Cardinals--received sweaters. Joyce Arnold and Marlene Newkirk received cheer leader sweaters; a pin was given to Ethel Thompson, the third member of the trio. All members of the first ten--the five seniors plus Fred Girton, Donald Ruark, David Grimes, Leon Arnold, and Maynard Miller--received an emblem on which was written "County Champs" for their victory in the Wabash Valley. Kenneth Carpenter received the foul shooting award for the first team and Donald Ruark for the second team. Stanley Smith received a medal for being student manager.

SOFTBALL AWARDS ARE GIVEN

On March 11 all members of the softball team received a medal with "County Champs" engraved on the back. Also on that day, Kenneth Carpenter received a medal for his batting average. Harry Custis was the only senior member of the team who received a letter.

YELL LEADERS HAVE A BUSY YEAR

On October 27, high school yell leaders were elected. Joyce Arnold, freshman, and Marlene Newkirk, junior, were the two new members. Ethel Thompson, a senior and veteran from last year, was the third.

Other candidates were Anita Selsor, Peggy Arnold, Wilma Wilson, all seniors, and Joyce Boatright, a sophomore.

These girls, Joyce, Marlene and Ethel, really backed the boys and led the fans this season. Congratulations, girls!

ETHEL THOMPSON IS D. A. R. REPRESENTATIVE FOR 1949

Ethel Thompson was the Fillmore winner in the good citizenship contest sponsored annually by the Putnam County Chapter of The Daughters of the American Revolution.

Ethel, Judith Pruitt, and Rachel Lisby were selected by the seniors. From these three,members of the faculty made the final choice. The selection was based on leadership, dependability, service and patriotism.

Ethel competed in the county contest which was won by Jeannette Tippin, of Bainbridge.
